

Company Summary

Mergabyte is a software development company that specializes in creating customer focused and tailored digital solutions for businesses. With a strong focus on achieving customer satisfaction with state-of-the-art features. We bring years worth of expertise in software development, web development and mobile development. Headquartered here in St. Johns, Newfoundland Canada, Mergabyte understands the unique and varied needs that come with running a business in Newfoundland.

Company Resources

Based in St. Johns Newfoundland Canada, we provide a competitive team of employees that strive in providing the best possible product tailored directly to each customer's needs.

- Jason - Project Manager:

MUN Computer Science 2015 graduate. 5 years experience in project management with 10 years experience in database administration and the development of dynamic data visualization software through the use of languages such as C#, CSHTML, SQL, Java and JavaScript, and frameworks such as Node, React, ASP and MVC.

- Patrick Rideout - Senior Front End Developer:

Graduated Harvard Computer Science in 2016, with 8 years of experience in the field developing and creating customer fueled solutions. I am experienced with languages such as Python, Java, JavaScript, and SQL, and with tools such as Express, Bash, Node,

React, and MongoDB.

- Lucas Maloney - Back End Developer:

Software Development Student at College of the North Atlantic. Experience in backend development on enterprise software in JavaScript, Python and PHP using tools such as Node.JS, Express.JS, Sequelize ORM and SQL databases.

- John-Michael Woodrow - Systems Analyst:

Software Development Student. Experience with Developing in Python, Java, JavaScript with tools such as Express, Node, React, MongoDB, and SQL. Previous experience developing full projects and working on an IT Helpdesk.

Our Services

Specialized software based on business needs

We offer industry leading innovation and customization in our products to insure each customer is left satisfied and ahead of there competition. We pride ourselves on being able to tailor our products to each customer and help them determine the best way of accomplishing their goal.

Mobile and Desktop Applications

We provide both Web based and standalone products for Desktop and Mobile devices. We provide a team with experience in building products in many languages such as Python, JavaScript, Java and SQL in frameworks such as React and AngularJS.

Staff Training

Training staff to use new software can be the hardest part of implementing new systems into a business. We offer training and implementation programs for you to help your employees thrive using the new product. With presentations and advisement from experts who built the product your teams production will increase immediately when the system is introduced.

Regular Support

We provide dedicated teams working around the clock to provide updates and support to your new systems to insure you experience minimal down time and problems with your new product.

Contact Us

Address: 1 Prince Phillip Dr, St. John's, NL A1C 5P7

Email: merg@byte.com